COMPUTER INTRUSIONS - CRIMINAL MATTERS

Synopsis: Request SOS [redacted] assistance on captioned case.

Details: Writer requests SOS [redacted] assistance due to the overwhelming amount of time-sensitive data being provided by a CHS. This data often contains [redacted]

b7D

[redacted] Due to the amount, and frequency, of the data, it is not possible to provide timely updates to the affected FBI field offices and law enforcement agencies while also addressing current CIP National Security and CIP Criminal case load.

It is anticipated that SOS [redacted] assistance will consist of reading email, watching videos, and conducting online research regarding CIP Criminal hacktivism. SOS [redacted] assistance is requested to assist C-4 Cyber in mitigating hacktivism threats which are presently ongoing in FBI San Antonio's AOR and in other FBI Field Office AORs. CHS reporting is arriving daily, but becomes stale if not utilized immediately to assist in preventing or responding to CIP Criminal Hacktivism threats. The duration of the captioned case is unknown and will be commensurate with the operational life of the CHS.

VICTIM
COMPUTER INTRUSIONS - CRIMINAL MATTERS

Synopsis: Case update and investigative plan.

Details: Writer currently has no CHS coverage of the subject of the captioned case and no more open-source leads. A lead was sent to [redacted] RA, [redacted] Division, to attempt to physically locate subject at his last known physical address. To date, [redacted] RA has been unable to locate the subject.

b7D

[redacted] RA has a CHS that may be able to gain access to the subject online and writer has requested that this be attempted. Writer has also requested [redacted] RA to continue to attempt to locate the subject. Writer will work with [redacted] to provide any needed information or Grand Jury subpoenas.

Upon locating the subject, whether online or physically, writer will use all means available to observe the online activity, especially the IP addresses used, by the subject. It is anticipated that this will enable writer to link past known attacks to the subject beyond a reasonable doubt.

"Greetings Pirates, and welcome to another exciting #FuckFBIFriday release.

As part of our ongoing effort to expose and humiliate our white hat enemies, we targeted a Special Agent Supervisor of the CA Department of Justice in charge of [redacted]. We are leaking over 38,000 private emails which contain detailed computer forensics techniques, investigation protocols as well as highly embarrassing personal information. We are confident these gifts will bring smiles to the faces of our black hat brothers and sisters (especially those who have been targeted by these scurvy dogs) while also making a mockery of "security professionals" who whore their "skills" to law enforcement to protect tyrannical corporativism and the status quo we aim to destroy.

Re: 288A-SD-NEW, 12/01/2011

We hijacked two gmail accounts belonging to [REDACTED] who has been a cop for [REDACTED] years, dumping his private email correspondence as well as several dozen voicemails and SMS text message logs. While just yesterday [REDACTED] was having a private BBQ with his [REDACTED] high computer crime task force friends, we were reviewing their detailed internal operation plans and procedure documents. We also couldn't overlook the boatloads of embarrassing personal information about our cop friend [REDACTED] We lulzed as we listened to [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] We turned on his google web history and watched him [REDACTED] [REDACTED] We also abused his google voice account, making sure [REDACTED] friends and family knew how hard he was owned. Possibly the most interesting content in his emails are the [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] The information in these emails will prove essential to those who want to protect themselves from the techniques and procedures cyber crime investigators use to build cases. If you have ever been busted for computer crimes, you should check to see if your case is being discussed here. There are discussions about [REDACTED]

These cybercrime investigators are supposed to be the cream of the crop, but we reveal the totality of their ignorance of all matters related to computer security. For months, we have owned several dozen white hat and law enforcement targets-- getting in and out of whichever high profile government and corporate system we please and despite all the active FBI investigations and several billion dollars of funding, they have not been able to stop us or get anywhere near us. Even worse, they bust a few dozen people who are allegedly part of an "anonymous computer hacking conspiracy" but who have only used kindergarten-level [REDACTED] -- this isn't even hacking, but a form of electronic civil disobedience.

We often hear these "professionals" preach about "full-disclosure," but we are sure these people are angrily sending out DMCA takedown notices and serving subpoenas as we speak. They call us criminals, script kiddies, and terrorists, but their entire livelihood depends on us, trying desperately to study our techniques and failing miserably at preventing future attacks. See we're cut from an entirely different kind of cloth. Corporate security professionals like Thomas Ryan and Aaron Barr think they're doing something noble by "leaking" the public email discussion lists of Occupy Wall Street and profiling the "leaders" of Anonymous. Wannabe player haters drop shitty dox and leak partial chat logs about other hackers, doing free work for law enforcement. Then you got people like Peiter "Mudge" Zatko who back in the day used to be old school l0ph7/cDc only now to sell out to DARPA going around to hacker conventions encouraging others to work for the feds. Let this be a warning to aspiring white hat "hacker" sellouts and police collaborators: stay out the game or get owned and exposed. You want to keep mass arresting and brutalizing the 99%? We'll have to keep owning your boxes and torrenting your mail spools, plastering your personal information all over teh internets.

Hackers, join us and rise up against our common oppressors - the white hats, the 1%'s 'private' police, the corrupt banks and corporations and make 2011 the year of leaks and revolutions!

We are Anti-Security,
We are the 99%
We do not forgive.
We do not forget.

30. Well we already owned pigs in Texas and Arizona, and many many others; guess its
31. time to ride on the California police.
- 32.
33. From the murder of Oscar Grant, the repression of the occupation movement, the
34. assassination of George Jackson in San Quinten prison, the prosecution of our
35. anonymous comrades in San Jose, and the dehumanizing conditions in California
36. jails and prisons today, California police have a notorious history of brutality

39. So we went ahead and owned the California State Law Enforcement Association
40. (CSLEA.COM), defacing their website and giving out live backdoors. We dumped a

49. traitors voluntarily chose to cross the picket line and side with the bosses and
50. bureaucrats, they burned all bridges with working class. As the bootboys for
51. capitalism they do not protect us, instead choosing to serve the interests and 56.

57. Interestingly, CSLEA members have discussed some of our previous hacks against

59. [redacted] deliberately made some rather amusing lies as to their security. He
60. repeatedly denied having been hacked up until web hosts at [redacted] showed him
61. some of the backdoors and other evidence of having dumped their databases. We
62. were reading their entire email exchange including when they realized that
63. credit card and password information was stored in cleartext. This is about the
64. time [redacted] changed his email password, but not before receiving a copy of the
65. 'shopper' table which contained all the CCs. Too late, [redacted]

These cybercrime investigators are supposed to be the cream of the crop, but we reveal the totality of their ignorance of all matters related to computer security. For months, we have owned several dozen white hat and law enforcement targets-- getting in and out of whichever high profile government and corporate system we please and despite all the active FBI investigations and several billion dollars of funding, they have not been able to stop us or get anywhere near us. Even worse, they bust a few dozen people who are allegedly part of an "anonymous computer hacking conspiracy" but who have only used kindergarten-level [REDACTED] this isn't even hacking, but a form of electronic civil disobedience.

b7E

We often hear these "professionals" preach about "full-disclosure," but we are sure these people are angrily sending out DMCA takedown notices and serving subpoenas as we speak. They call us criminals, script kiddies, and terrorists, but their entire livelihood depends on us, trying desperately to study our techniques and failing miserably at preventing future attacks. See we're cut from an entirely different kind of cloth. Corporate security professionals like Thomas Ryan and Aaron Barr think they're doing something noble by "leaking" the public email discussion lists of Occupy Wall Street and profiling the "leaders" of Anonymous. Wannabe player haters drop shitty dox and leak partial chat logs about other hackers, doing free work for law enforcement. Then you got people like Peiter "Mudge" Zatko who back in the day used to be old school 10ph/cDc only now to sell out to DARPA going around to hacker conventions encouraging others to work for the feds. Let this be a warning to aspiring white hat "hacker" sellouts and police collaborators: stay out the game or get owned and exposed. You want to keep mass arresting and brutalizing the 99%? We'll have to keep owning your boxes and torrenting your mail spools, plastering your personal information all over teh internets.

Hackers, join us and rise up against our common oppressors - the white hats, the 1%'s 'private' police, the corrupt banks and corporations and make 2011 the year of leaks and revolutions!

We are Anti-Security,
We are the 99%
We do not forgive.
We do not forget.
Expect Us!"

Statement regarding the hijacking of my personal accounts:

On Friday 11-18-2011, at approximately 0700 hours I was getting in my car and began receiving text messages on my phone from my own Google telephone number of

[REDACTED] This number is associated with my [REDACTED] account of [REDACTED] The messages stated that in essence, the senders had taken over my account and that they "owned" me. The messages were also directing me to a specific chat room (I already deleted the text) to contact them, otherwise they were going to post my email and personal information all over the Internet. I ignored them and they continued to harass me with incoming text messages. I checked via my smart Android based cell phone, and immediately noticed I no longer had access to my Google account, my Facebook account that was associated with the same email address, and the yahoo account that was linked to my [REDACTED] The perpetrators continued to prod me to go to the chat room with threats of releasing the information, but I continued to ignore them.

b7c

When I arrived home at approximately 0730 hours, I went onto the Internet from what I believed to be a secure computer and via the specific providers websites followed their online protocols for recovering compromised accounts. It took approximately 1 hour, but I was successful in gaining access to all the compromised accounts and changed the passwords several times to prevent the intruders from following the same protocols. In the Google account, they harassed many of the contacts contained in my phone book with a variety of text messages. They posted personal emails from the email accounts around the Internet and made bold statements about compromising a Department of Justice [REDACTED] Some of the email in my sent folder included [REDACTED] They logged into my Facebook account and deleted most of my photos, changed configuration settings, posted numerous offensive comments and personal messages to various friends, as well as impersonated me in various chats.

b7c

I received a phone call from a Huffington Post reporter (didn't get his name but seemed legitimate, [REDACTED]) at approximately 1400 hours the same day. He was excited when he initially called, like he was at the forefront of a big breaking story. He asked if I wanted to comment on the compromise that happened to me and told me he learned of it from people in a chat room. It appears he thought I was going to be some high ranking manager of a computer crimes unit and there were going to be damning things in the data they stole. I quickly deflated his enthusiasm as I told him [REDACTED]

b6
b7c

[REDACTED] and that whatever they got was personal, but not embarrassing and I was not going to give in to their threats and intimidation by contacting them. I further told him that in the overall scheme of things, I was really nobody and it was insignificant to terrorize me for their cause.

Following my recovery of the accounts, the perpetrators texted me and said it was not over yet. They made a comment about how tough economic times were and I should beware of my financial status. I made a check of my assorted banking and credit account that I deal with online and discovered a fraudulent charge made that morning to Ritz camera for approximately $896.95. The purchase was made with my [redacted] [redacted] and was scheduled to ship to an old mailing address at [redacted] [redacted] I contacted [redacted] and they are cancelling the transaction and the account. There are no other known discrepancies at this time and have since placed a credit block on my personal information.

They continued to harass me via text and said they were releasing my telephone number to 150,000 followers on twitter, and hoped I wasn't busy. I received a few calls, but did not answer them just to see what the callers had to say. Most just made ignorant comments and hung up. I disabled the gmail account, to avoid a backlog of voicemail as my phone is [redacted]

[redacted] I believe this tactic, along with not acknowledging them in the text or chat rooms frustrated them and kept them from calling or texting too much. There were a couple of texts from [redacted] that appeared to be sympathetic to me, wishing me well and hoping the hackers would be brought to justice. I ignored them as well, suspicious that the perpetrators were just testing to see if I was receiving their other harassment texts.

I received only a few additional phone calls from mysterious numbers and harassment texts over the weekend.

I desire prosecution.

COMPUTER INTRUSION

Synopsis: To Close Captioned Case.

Details: Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] and Special Agent (SA) [redacted] have discussed captioned investigation and its status on numerous occasions. On March 16, 2012, AUSA [redacted] inquired via email if captioned investigation could be closed. SA [redacted] advised that since there are no good subject internet protocol (IP) addresses and no good follow-up leads or information from current sources, captioned investigation should be closed.

The evidence obtained in this investigation did not derive enough probable cause to result in the identification of a subject for a prosecutable offense. On April 18, 2012, SA [redacted] received a letter from the United States Attorney's Office stating that their office has closed the investigation. The abovementioned letter has been attached and is made a part of this document.

b6
b7C

On April 27, 2012, SA [redacted] returned the hard drives provided by Imageshack as evidence in captioned case back to the victim company.

It is recommended that captioned case be closed and that the evidence collected on captioned case be destroyed and/or returned

RE: ImageShack Intrusion

Dear Special Agent [Redacted]

This letter is to confirm that my office has closed the investigation into the ImageShack intrusion by a group known as Anti-Sec. Based on our conversations, you have conducted an exhaustive investigation and have been unable to identify the individual responsible for the intrusion. If you find new evidence, please resubmit the case for prosecution.

I appreciate all of your work on the case. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions. I can be reached at [Redacted]

Very truly yours,

Anti-sec. We're a movement dedicated to the eradication of full-disclosure. We wanted to give everyone an image of what we're all about.

Full-disclosure is the disclosure of exploits publicly - anywhere. The security industry uses full-disclosure to profit and develop scare-tactics to convince people into buying their firewalls, anti-virus software, and auditing services.

Meanwhile, script kiddies copy and paste these exploits and compile them, ready to strike any and all vulnerable servers they can get a hold of. If whitehats were truly about security this stuff would not be published, not even exploits with silly edits to make them slightly unusable.

As an added bonus, if publication wasn't enough, these exploits are mirrored and distributed widely across the Internet with a nice little advertisement embedded in them for the crew or website which first exposed the vulnerability to the public.

It's about money. While the world is difficult to change, and money will certainly continue to be a very important in the eyes of many, our battle is that of the removal of full-disclosure for the purpose of making it harder for the security industry to exploit its consequences.

It is our goal that, through mayhem and the destruction of all exploitative and detrimental communities, companies, and individuals, full-disclosure will be abandoned and the security industry will be forced to reform.

How do we plan to achieve this? Through the full and unrelenting, unmerciful elimination of all supporters of full-disclosure and the security industry in its present form. If you own a security

blog, an exploit publication website or you distribute any exploits...

"you are a target and you will be rm'd. Only a matter of time."

This isn't like before. This time everyone and everything is getting owned.

4) Special handling instructions include:

- a. All files contained on this DVD have the potential to contain viruses and other malicious code exported from the examined computer media. Therefore, this DVD should not be viewed on any networked computer OR any computer connected to the Internet. It is recommended this DVD only be viewed on a standalone workstation designed for the purpose of evidence review. Please consult your systems administrator for assistance and guidance.
- b. In certain investigations, files and information containing contraband such as pornographic images and trade secrets may have been discovered and copied onto this DVD. This can also include pornographic and obscene images of children. Extraordinary care must be taken to safeguard this material and properly secure it when not being used for investigative or legal purposes. The SVRCFL recommends this DVD be secured in appropriate storage, such as an evidence facility, when not being reviewed by the investigator.
- c. File attributes such as time/date stamps are dependent on several factors such as computer date/time settings and time zones. Where possible and feasible, date/time attributes have been preserved and details can be found in the electronic report contained herein.
- d. THIS DVD SHOULD NOT BE DUPLICATED or DISSEMINATED to parties outside of the requesting law enforcement agency or prosecutor's office without first consulting with Silicon Valley RCFL.
- e. This DVD is intended primarily for law enforcement and prosecution use. It is not recommended that this DVD work product be used for evidentiary hearings, trials, or other official proceedings. If any contents of this DVD are needed for a legal proceeding, the Silicon Valley RCFL should be contacted so that the relevant items can be provided in a form suitable for these purposes.

Request:

Refer to the final Report of Examination for information on services requested. This report relates to the imaging processes only.

Summary of Examination:

Digital evidence media items were imaged to media to be retained as archives, and to staging media for future forensic examination by an assigned forensic examiner.

 Enclosures: 0

For Official Use Only

Details of Examination:

Prior to conducting any forensic process, I reviewed the legal authority, presented as a "Consent to Search" form.

Upon submission to the SVRCL, each submitted item was inventoried. As part of the inventory process, each item was assigned a unique SVRCFL bar code, and was entered into the SVRCFL evidence system. Where appropriate, make, model, and serial number for each imaged item was recorded, and each item was digitally photographed.

To preserve the original evidence and minimize any risk of damage to the original, an exact copy of the user-accessible data located on the evidentiary items was created onto staging media. (The exact copy will hereafter be referred to as an image.) The images were created using approved and appropriate forensic imaging software to write to forensically clean staging media prepared for use in an examination. Unless otherwise noted, the original evidence was write-protected using a hardware-write protection device to prevent any unintentional or accidental destruction or modification of the original evidence. An archive copy was also made using approved and appropriate software.

The staging media will be used in the examination phase to further satisfy the request, while the archive copy will be retained in the SVRCFL evidence control room in order to preserve the evidence should it be required in the future for authentication or court processes.

[Redacted]

[Redacted] All the original evidence was returned to the SVRCFL evidence control room.

The following processes were performed during imaging of the original evidence:

- Physical Examination of Evidentiary items
- Write Protect Media
- Hardware Geometry and System Information

A diagram illustrating a function's behavior. Two horizontal lines represent the x-axis. A curved line segment connects two points on these lines. The left endpoint of the curve is marked with a small circle and a dot, indicating a local maximum. The right endpoint is marked with a small circle and a cross, indicating a local minimum. The curve is concave down, representing a function that is decreasing on the left and increasing on the right.

Synopsis: To Open Case and subfiles.

Details: On October 8, 2009, Special Agent (SA) [redacted] met with employees of IMAGESHACK located at 236 North Santa Cruz Avenue, Los Gatos, California, 95030, to discuss two recent computer intrusions of IMAGESHACK servers. IMAGESHACK is a company which provides internet image hosting.

IMAGESHACK advised SA [redacted] that the first computer intrusion occurred on July 10, 2009 at approximately 7 pm Pacific Standard Time (PST). A group by the name of ANTI-SEC gained access to one of the company database servers. The server the hacker(s) accessed [redacted] for IMAGESHACK customers to include [redacted]
